

Christie's International Real Estate expands into Sussex and Warren counties

SADDLE RIVER — Christie's International Real Estate, the world's leading network of luxury brokerages and the real estate arm of Christie's fine art auction house, has selected Special Properties as its exclusive marketing partner in 45 different communities throughout Warren and Sussex counties. Having excelled as a leader in Bergen County, Special Properties Real Estate Services, will market under the Christie's brand in new areas in Northwest New Jersey.

The Sussex County towns where Special Properties will market under the Christie's Brand include Andover Borough, Andover Township, Branchville, Byram, Frankford, Franklin, Fredon, Hamburg, Hampton, Hardyston, Hopatcong, Lafayette, Montague, Newton, Ogdensburg, Sandyston, Sparta, Stanhope, Stillwater, Sussex, Vernon, Walpack and Wantage.

As global hubs, such as New York City, continue to attract attention from international buyers, luxury home searches have emanated out into neighboring enclaves of wealth. With its close proximity to Manhattan, New Jersey offers an ideal balance of urban vibrancy and unexpected bucolic serenity – long proven and more recently, rediscovered.

“Special Properties has been awarded these new territories because of the company's proven expertise as a luxury real estate advisor. As we continue to expand into these high-end markets, we are confident in our network leaders' ability to create success for both buyers and sellers on the local and global stage,” said Dan Conn, CEO, Christie's International Real Estate. Christie's International Real Estate is an invitation-only affiliate network comprised of the world's most proven and qualified real estate specialists in the luxury residential sector. The company has offices in London, New York, Hong Kong, Moscow, Los Angeles, and Palm Beach, and approximately 135 global Affiliates with 32,000 real estate professionals in 45 countries. The network achieved a combined annual sales volume of approximately US$113 billion. Special Properties was invited to join this carefully selected network of luxury brokerages 16 years ago. “Special Properties has long-demonstrated a commitment to Christie's trust values of expertise, client care, and discretion, while embracing our network's emerging opportunities. Expanding the company's market scope is deserved and welcomed. We look forward to continuing to support and promote Special Properties as a luxury leader in their local marketplace by providing them with the global reach of Christie's,” said Kathleen Coumou, Executive Director, Christie's International Real Estate.

“We are very excited to expand our presence in Northwest New Jersey and Hudson County, including Hoboken and Jersey City, to provide more customers with the unique Christie's experience,” said Ilija Pavlovic, President and CEO of Special Properties Real Estate Services LLC.
